New IAMAW 99 Website

If you've been to the Iamaw99.ca website recently you'll have noticed some new changes. If you've visited the site on your handheld device, you'll really see some changes as we've now gone mobile friendly. Some pages are still under construction but the functionality is still there. We've also included a Political Action Committee page where you will be able to keep in touch with political matters pertaining to the members, and I'm sure the PAC will have information to supply and distribute.
